

TRB Bites x Raw Eatery and Wood Grill (By Chef Juan Campos) Dining Collaboration

Raw Eatery and Wood Grill is the latest dining hot spot in Jian'an district in Shanghai, after years of operating the lively Malabar, the team, with Chef Juan Campos at its helm, ventures out to open a restaurant that "returns to the basics". It serves contemporary Western cuisine that draws its inspirations from South America and Spain, extracting inspirations and flavors from different cuisines, and transformed them into dishes that one can describe as intimate and personal. It delights its guests with a cooking philosophy that uses and honors the freshest ingredients, as well as its usage of the Jospier oven, a unique type of high temperature charcoal fueled oven that gives the dishes mesmerizing smokey flavor and texture.

It is Raw Eatery and Wood Grill and Chef Juan Campos' approach towards food that we resonates passionately with, and this time, the two restaurants are joining forces to collaborate on a dining event, that showcases the merits of honest cooking.
