

The Global Flavor Ambassador: Guest Chef Martin Brock

TRB is proud to have Chef Martin Brock joins us here in Beijing as the first guest chef to kick off our international impression program, who guarantee to bring us nothing but delicious marvels that could only be described as truly original and unpretentious.

Chef Martin brings with him an extensive menu of global experience ranging from his culinary education in Germany to his most recent post in San Francisco at Restaurant Gary Danko. As Chef de Cuisine, Martine collaborated with the owner on menu development and oversaw nightly service. Before his time on the West Coast, Martin cultivated and lead the team at Grayz, a Gray Kunz restaurant serving modern European cuisine in the heart of New York City.

A true street-food lover at heart, despite his fine-dining experiences and expertise, Martin also spends vast amount of time traveling on the road to visit different cities and countries in the pursuit of sampling the local flavors and appreciate diverse cultures, which all tastefully evolve into his source of culinary inspiration.
